W. H. S. Freshmen Reception

The annual reception given by the students of the upper classes to the entering class was held at the school building Friday evening, Sept. 17. The main study room was prettily decorated with evergreen and autumn leaves and presented an attractive appearance, much of the credit being due to the work of Olive Chase, the new assistant.

After the reception and address of welcome by Ralph M. Bacon, chairman of the School Board, a social hour with games, followed, and refreshments of cake and punch were served followed by a few more games and the good-night march. The students voting it one of the most enjoyable receptions ever held. A large number of the parents and other citizens were present and enjoyed the occasion almost as much as the younger people. The freshmen class this year numbers thirteen, of which eleven are from this town.

Following are the members of the class: Verna Whitman, Helen Farrar, Bessie Muller, Mildred Novell, Gladys Salls, Stanley Deshon, Fred Muller, James Day Billings, Irving Mason, Roy Noyes, Everett Howe, Harris Hathaway, Alpheus Coffin.

Where is Your Money Working --In the West--or in Maine?

With coal at prohibitive prices and never likely to be cheap again, the states that have water power are developing it as rapidly as they can finance dams and power stations.

The states that develop the most and do it first profit most.

Utilizing water power is no simple matter of sticking one end of a wire in the falls and the other in the factory and turning a switch. Between the falls and the factory must be substantial dams, power houses, wheels, generators and power lines—which cost money, investment money.

The states that can build these plants NOW will be the first ones to get the factories and plants that are moving away from "coal" states to "water-power" states.

Your money invested in Western companies, helps them to get the factories. Your money invested in Central Maine Power Company helps to bring industries and money to Maine.

Which will profit you most—to invest in the West—or in Maine? If you will profit by the growth and prosperity of your home state, why not buy Central Maine Power Company 7 per cent. preferred stock? The price is $107.50 a share—the yield 6½ per cent.

$100.00 REWARD

It has been said by those who either have no Maine Gems to sell, or else because of ignorance that there is no such thing as a Maine Gem. My show case is filled with semi-precious stones, mined and cut in Maine, and sold throughout the U. S. in the best stores, including Tiffany & Co. of New York. The above sum will be paid to any person who can prove there are no Maine Gems. I would be perfectly safe in making it a million dollars reward, did I possess that amount of money.

Grange Fair

On September 20, the big Grange fair is coming off, if it is a fair day. Everything has been done that can be made of a booming success and interestingly worth while for the public to attend.

The Grange dining room will contain a large variety of exhibits such as are seen at all agricultural fairs. In the hall above will be moving pictures in the afternoon and evening, followed by a dance.

Dinner and supper will be served in Centennial Hall, possibly other small halls also. Beans baked in the ground by O. D. Ingwood, who is always sure of a good bake. At 9 o'clock in the morning there will be a big parade. The progress of agriculture and other business features. March to start from the schoolhouse, the R. R. crossing, and around the Grange Hall. Prizes awarded in charge of Mrs. E. J. Macmillan.

During the forenoon there will be a horse pulling match in Railroad Square, cash prizes will be offered for this in charge of E. W. Penley. In the afternoon the high school expect to have a track meet and baseball game.

There will be ribbons and card prizes on all hall exhibits. There will also be a pressed flower exhibit in the hall, made by some of the nearby schools. A nature book has been offered as a prize for the best exhibit. It is also expected that there will be individual exhibits of nature specimens for which a prize will be awarded. EXHIBITION HALL

Exhibition hall looked gay this year, never before had it been decorated by artists from abroad. Inside and out it was draped and festooned in our National colors, with banners, with pennants, with streamers, with fans, in fact, in all the standard forms of decorations. The red, white and blue was everywhere. "Three cheers for the red, white and blue."

Our friend of years, R. P. Skeetop, was the first to greet us on passing through the front doors. He has occupied the same corner, right hand as you enter, so long that he is recognized as almost a part of the fair, and his sweet grass baskets and other Indian goods must be made on honor because our Maine fairs give him such a continual patronage. He is from West Scarborough, Me., and Swansea, Mass.

At the left, Mrs. Howard Shaw and Mrs. Charles Bowker of South Paris had their lunch counter. They had also occupied this corner in former years. Their specialty this year was lobster salad, rolls, ice cream, crackers, doughnuts and coffee were among the goodies.

The Portland Evening Express "rest room" is an adjunct few newspapers can boast. But this is a novelty that comes yearly to our fair.

L. M. Longley of Norway had his famous "white bath room." All the accessories for a first-class bath were there. As a contrast, the adjoining booth was in black—"Clarion ranges, stoves, and furnaces."

The Universal Society's lunch room was a new venture by the society's enterprising ladies. Mrs. Maud DeCoster, Mrs. Lizzie Sampson and Della Noyes were the prime movers.

Thursday the public was served by Della Noyes, Mrs. E. W. Sampson, Mrs. Iza Sanborn, Mrs. Annie Favor, Mrs. Maud DeCoster and Mrs. Walter Pridie.

Wednesday—Mrs. V. W. Hills, Mrs. B. G. McIntire, Mrs. Honor Downing, Mrs. George Dunn, Della Noyes, Marion Downing, Mrs. Lotta Ashton, and Mrs. Etta Lebroke.

Thursday—Mrs. Annie Beck, Mrs. Maud DeCoster, Mrs. Abbie Heath, Mrs. George Hill, Mrs. Charles Buswell, Ruth Adams and Sara Taylor.

W. J. Wheeler of South Paris had the music room that has been a feature of the fair, for these many years! Pianos and organs, Pease player piano and Poole pianos were there. Fine music was rendered throughout the fair.

The famous Mount Madison Spring beverage of Gorham, N. H. had a well arranged and attractive "bar." It was well patronized. This too had been here several years. Its patrons aver that the drinks served "please but do not intoxicate."

The Oxford Electric Co., Norway-South Paris interested the ladies with their display. Was there ever a woman who did not want electrical helps in the household? The purple table was loaded with the Universal and Sixes toasters—toaster and coffee percolator, electric vibrator, irons both for pressing and curling, a grill by which a whole meal can be cooked. The Apex vacuum cleaner, magnetic electric heater, and easy vacuum electric washer and things that every woman at the fair would have, could they be had "for a song." Electric lamps with wonderful shades made brightness and light.

The Free Westinghouse Sewing Machine, electrically run, was a handsome piece of furniture. It could be changed in a twinkling from a sewing machine, Ro-to-cillo movement, to a table or writing desk. The Gould Autowater system takes water from the well and delivers it automatically under pressure same as city water. The Patterson hot-water heater may be attached to the range boiler or used independently.

The Novelty Turning Co. of Norway showed how their wooden goods are used. They had an entire booth filled with hundreds of completed articles of which their products form a part or a whole, and they must be used over large territories of the globe.

"The Tubbs Snow-Shoes and Skis" of Norway is one of the largest manufacturers of these goods. It is a study to note the adaptability of the snow-shoe to the different ways in which it may be needed to be used. The varieties of the snow-shoes, skis, and accessories filled the booth, floor space and walls.

The Paris Manufacturing Co. of South Paris is another manufacturing concern, the largest for its kinds of goods. The sleds, toboggans, desks, children's sleighs, wheelbarrows, express wagons, chairs, tables and many other useful things especially for children and youths fill a two space booth.

In conspicuous place is the sled that was awarded first prize for excellence at the World's Fair in 1876. The lettering on top read, "Paris Hill Manufacturing Co., Oxford County, Me., U. S. A."

H. A. Monroe of Boston had heads made from California roses.

A quilt, applique work by Mrs. H. E. Gibson, Norway; stocking work by Mrs. Walter Anderson, Norway. There were patchwork quilts, in log cabin, tree, hit and miss, tulips that formed Maltese crosses, and less farcical patterns, and rugs braided, drawn, wool knitting, machine work.

There were but three grange exhibits, the Paris, Hebron, and Bear River. The Granges have a system of appointing committees for the several exhibits that go to make up the whole, and a complete committee and sub-committee takes the greater part of the grange members.

Paris Grange used green and white as decoration, asparagus lent itself nicely to the scheme. A grape vine run over a trellis and with its grapes and green leaves, with brown backs gave a good effect. The monstrous pumpkins and beets, the long ears of yellow traced corn, the cut flower mantelpiece stands out among the fancy work, farm products and curiosities.

Bear Mountain Grange of Newry chose white and corn color for its background. The blue, red and white covered is a handsome specimen of the handwork of our great grandmothers. The canned goods and jellies, the vegetables and fancy work and everything that goes to make up a fair are all in a grange exhibit.

Hebron Grange took the always pretty pine needles and arranged them over white. Their case of cooked food had a most appetizing look. Corn stalks high onto twenty feet soared upward. Sugar cane and brown corn stalks were raised in Hebron by Wight Cushman. Mr. Cushman had made a broom of the brown corn and had also collected native grasses that, arranged in bunches, formed a decoration. Hebron is the home of good apples and the Grange has surely captured some of the best.

FAIR NEWS

EXHIBITION HALL

F. A. Thayer, furniture store, South Paris, had a room furnished in luxurious style, with the furniture, glass and silverware, are no more. Mr.
 Thayer's shoe sale of arms and civilian shoes was under the management of Cy Kenney and Dick Lasselle. The shoes were for men and looked serviceable.

W. H. Clifford of South Paris told the good points of the De Laval separators.
 Carroll-Jackson Shoe Co. of Norway had ladies' shoes from their Norway factory. There were boots, Oxfords, the one eyelet and two eyelet shoes and pumps. From their Ellsworth factory were felt shoes in bright and pretty colors for men, women, boys, misses, children and infants. James C. True and
 P. H. Nevers were in charge.

One of the unique objects was a huge bear skin and head, shot by Charles E.
 Bradford of Norway. The bear must have weighed 400.
 On the Lincoln Chapin farm of Oxford, John Morton has raised some sweet potatoes. They were as fine as were ever grown.

N. U. Greenlaw of Norway had an educational display that was very interesting if not beautiful. The storage battery in an automobile is somewhat of a mystery even to expert automobilists, and automobile repairers rather tend to leave the battery workings a mystery. Mr.
 Greenlaw in his business had taken apart sick batteries that have "gone wrong" and collected them in his exhibit so that all may see the lack of care or accident that puts the battery out of commission.

The William storage batteries are the best make that Mr. Greenlaw specializes, and he has taken apart a new Willard so that everyone might see how a battery looks and how it works. The storage battery electric lanterns are an up-to-date lantern.

The Rural New Yorker was represented by agents ready to tell this paper's advantages.

A. Armstrong, Waterville, made fairly good candy. He manufactured it in a machine operated by electric power.
 "While you wait." It was snowed out but Mr. Armstrong said he could make colored by coloring the sugar before manufacturing.

L. M. Longley had a third department with Florence blue flame oil stoves, quick hot water heaters for summer cottages and oil heaters.

Jewelry and gift shops, Palm Beach novelties, beanie dolls and a multitude of bargains could be bought.

Doris Kilgore of Norway had a big collection of cut flowers. The apples were looked fairer, and the grapes and plums were better than usual this year.
 The vegetables, potatoes, pumpkins and squashes were a credit to the farmer, and will tell you the winners under the "Award of premiums".

Irving Wheeler of South Paris, a lame boy, had a collection of handmade dolls furniture.

A booth was shown by Griffin & Graham, decorators, who did the decorating for the society and many private parties.

The fancy department was in charge of Mattie Richards, Joseph Baker and Hazel Millett. The work in embroidery, crochet, knitting and fancy work in endless varieties were of the best.

Agnes Morton, South Paris, had vases made from the famous French 76s.
 The empty shells being picked up after the first of the battle of Verdun. Marshall shells of South Paris, a display of paper money. A beaded bag made by Mrs. Winnie Riddell of West Paris.

Mrs. Mattie Anderson of Norway a table runner made of the covers of old taken from small college memorandum books, also white kid, beaded slippers.

John D. Cole, a former Norway boy, had ten paintings and sketches of horses.
 Most of these were regular wild west horses, and they showed plenty of action.
 Would consider them good studies of horses. None but a lover of a horse could have made them. He also had a dog's head that took a blue card.

Mrs. Lena Andrews of Norway had hand painted china, eight oil paintings and six water color paintings. Mrs.
 Andrews work is always pleasing. Mrs.
 G. G. Becker was in town, Friday inspecting the new piece of state road
 which was recently completed.

C. T. Fox received his orders to close the fire station on Aziscons Mt., Thursday of this week.

Mrs. E. S. Bennett is visiting Mrs.
 Sarah Fickett at Bethel.
 Alfred Bennett of Colebrook is working for M. D. Sturtevant.

WILSON'S MILLS

Wm. B. Garfield of Boston has opened his camp, "Saints' Rest" for three weeks. He is accompanied by Charles Floyd of Hartford, Conn.

G. G. Becker was in town, Friday inspecting the new piece of state road
 which was recently completed.

C. T. Fox received his orders to close
 the fire station on Aziscons Mt., Thurs-
 day of this week.

Mrs. E. S. Bennett is visiting Mrs.
 Sarah Fickett at Bethel.
 Alfred Bennett of Colebrook is working for M. D. Sturtevant.

In the children's branch was a collection of jewelry boxes and trays made by Arthur Clark of South Paris from birds-eye maple and curly birch. Marion Ames of South Paris had a fine crochet yoke. Glenora Starbird, South Paris and Helen Richardson, Norway, tatting; Martha Fletcher, South Paris, solid embroidery; Susie Bradbury, Norway, water colors; Helen Richardson, 611 paintings; Donald Green, South Paris, colored paper work and original pencil drawings. Alice Dyer, Norway, colored school crayon drawings.

Mrs. Alice L. Freelove of North Bridg-ton had millinery. The styles were becoming the ladies' adored.

In the grange departments Mrs. F. I.
 Sturtevant of Hebron had white and green cheese. Hebron grange has been coming here for years. The committee who had charge were Mr. and Mrs. W.
 G. Conant, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hibbs, Se-die Cummings, Dwight Cushman, Nellie Conant, Elsie Conant and Bertha George.

Mrs. Laura E. Chase had the old hand cards, the rolls, the spun yarn and the warm, knit woolen stockings and mittens.
 A. West bought in Boston by C. H. L.
 Powers of Norway in 1890. The saddle bags used by actors when they rode horseback over 100 years ago. Bear River grange of Newry was represented by Fred White, Earl Davis, Susan White and Irving French. These people brought their exhibit 42 miles and are entitled to great credit.

Park & Pollard featured for the poltry their, Lay or Bust; for hogs, Go-To-It; or the dairy, Stevens "44." They explained untiringly the "why and whereof" of their products.

The Mason Manufacturing Co., South
 Paris, locally known as the Toy Shop, had their famous dolls' and children's furniture, the little white beds, cradles, chairs, desks, tables. Who would not like to play with these things?

Van's cold pack process, Bethel, gave perfect fruit, vegetables and meats under glass. The sweet corn on the cob in the can did not seem different from the ear laid on the top of the can, and the string beans as though growing on the vines.

Superintendent of hall, C. W. Bowker, was a busy man and kept everything moving in the right direction.

Random Pick-Ups

Ora Spencer, the well known candy man, and William W. Kerrigan, the dispenser of soft drinks, are no more. Mr.
 Spencer passed away last December at Presque Isle after a long illness. He came to these grounds seventeen years ago and is one of the last of the old line manufacturing molasses candy while you wait. Mr. Kerrigan died in Portland in November after a long life among the fair ground fraternity. He visited the cattle show for thirty-seven years and was among the oldest to make us a regular call. A son, John W. Kerrigan, has taken over the business and occupied the same spot selected by his father many years ago. He came here when a lad in knee trousers and is qualified to hold the trade.

Harry Bassett of Norway was busy demonstrating the Federal Pure Food Dessert. He also sold sewing machine needles and oil while speaking a good word for the Singer Machine for which he is agent.

The Lewiston Brigade Band 16 pieces, with Arthur B. Pettigill director dispensed excellent music for the morning concert and afternoon entertainment between the races. This is their tenth annual engagement here and the fair would not be complete without their well arranged program. They came by automobiles each day owing to heavy transportation charges on the railroad.

Local fakirs were more common than usual this year. "Shorty" Faneuf, Fred Banks and Dick Sargent had a stand well stocked with soft drinks, frankfurts, coffee, doughnuts and cigars. "Bud" Merrill and Howard Bennett passed out cold drinks, frankfurts, etc. Asaph Richards with Ted Young handled soft drinks, hamburg sandwiches, frankfurts and other attractive articles. Rand Bros.
 carried on a thriving business with lunches, smokes, etc. Raymond Dunham of South Paris, assisted by Billy Webster, Lawrence Boyce, Howard Aldrich and others dispensed soft drinks, frankfurts and lunches.

Franklin Maxim had charge of the check room for the twentieth year. Many have surmised the automobile and quick lunch stands would put this department on the scrap heap. "Not so," said Mr.
 Maxim, "We are busier than ever. Two years ago this room did the best business since I have been in charge."

"Bridge of Bridgton" sold popcorn and put out an article of merit. Harry Bridge is his full name, a native of Mechanic Falls, Me. He carried on a stand in Norway village several years ago and is still in the business. His regular location is at Bridgton, hence the trade name.

Harry Kimball and Merritt Welch, both of Norway, sold automobile tickets in the small office near the big gate. The collectors included Arthur E. Clark, So-Paris; J. S. Burbank, Bethel; John Em-erley, South Paris; A. M. Ryerson, South Paris; Thomas Clegg, South Paris. Hat bands stating their occupation have superceded the old tin silver badge.

Graffam & Graham, artistic decorators of Lewiston dressed the exhibition building, the grand stands and main entrance in patriotic colors. They also made an elaborate lay-out in the hall. This innovation was a pleasing novelty and worth the price.

Herbert H. Hosmer, Jr., was track marshal this year as Alonzo Fuller decided not to serve longer. This change, if permanent, will remove another fam-ilar figure from the stage of action around the horse department.

Edvard Libby, J. S. Witham, Walter Anderson and Frank LaFrance tended the gates leading to the track and guarded the careless from injury.

Frank B. Fogg of South Paris, with his well known horse touring car, towed the brush drag about the track between heats at a lively mark and performed the work thoroughly.

Everybody "rubbered" when Lieut.
 Reuben Swan airplane into town Tuesday afternoon. His plane to make a landing on the lot on Rumford road were suddenly changed while in the air. A portion of the lot had been ploughed since he arranged the details, so he coasted along until a safe spot was found.

The selected Ira Harriman may field on Fore street, two miles below the fair grounds. Lieut. Swan made no mistake for he was received with open arms by Mr. Harriman and given a temporary home.

Another local fakir, Ed Gammon of Norway, carried on a pin game on lower midway as in former years. Thespiel of "knock 'em down three times in succession" was lacking this year, and a new elaborated line of attractive oratory was on tap. Eddie has a non-resisting way of attracting the crowd, also stray dimes.

Suckers run every fall and a new school are let into the grounds each year. Four wild men buried in the pit shows groaned and screeched, and the unsophisticated with the primitive bump suspension normal paid admission plus war tax to peek over the rail for a sting. Will our people never grow wise?

Officers Ernest Hutchins and Horace Kimball were special policemen about the grounds and handling traffic at the main gate. Sheriff Harry D. Cole, Deputies Harry O. Stinson, Ernest F. Shaw, Ben Billings, and others were constantly on the job watching out for law breakers.

Soldier Harry Katron, the world's champion wrestler at 125 pounds, seen in action at Norway Opera House frequently, operated an athletic show Wednesday and Thursday. Harry has traveled with a carnival the past summer and is well seasoned and in perfect condition. He carried no assistant, but relied on local talent for his attraction.

William A. Bicknell and Donald A.
 Welch were entry clerks and assistants to Secretary W. O. Frothingham. Mrs.
 Leida Fletcher, Mrs. Clara Ryerson, and Mrs. Sophia Clark were busy with the premium list.

Agricultural Implements

A. W. Walker & Son, South Paris, occupied their tent where harvesting machinery, plows, harrows, kerosene engines and innumerable implements to make farm work profitable and easy were shown.

The famous Deedlight lightning protection system was demonstrated on a miniature building. Milking machines were there and Fairbanks, Morse & Co.'s farm lighting outfits made a conspicuous display.

W. K. Clifford put in a display under the grand stand where hay bedders, machine spreaders, sulky plows and a wood sawing outfit were shown.

Dr. Simpson of Kennebunk, Me., has a good horse for sale. The horse is at Burnham Rice's, No. Waterford. See ad.

A FRIEND

Can we always tell who our friends are? No. This very hard to say. Prove them faithful, test them wisely. We must watch them day by day. True friends, like rare gems, prove hard to tell. He who claims to be a true friend, has proved him true to the end. A faithful friend is a strong defense. He is loyal and he's true. Your love for him you'll find immense. This is his love for you. Our bosom friends are a rare treasure; Though distant and far apart. My dearest among my only pleasure. Is count the friends in my heart. Though they may be few or small in numbers. They are just as dear to me. As though they were in all my slumbers. Or ever where, then, I see. To a child there is no friend like mother. Though they may think she is cross; Father, sister, or maybe brother. Is the one they love the most. But when she's gone they'll find they'll miss her. Think no one can take her place. And for friends they're searching afar. On someone soon there's a trace. I know because I've lost my family; Lost them all but my brother. But now since from all I rally; I've found a friend like mother. It's been four years since first I saw her. The reason that I love her. A something told me that I loved her. That from her I could not part. She is a dear friend, she's a true friend; The reason that I love her. Is because she was true to the end. She's the best place to mother. She is the dearest, she's the sweetest. She's the best that God could send. She is the nearest, she's the nearest. She is what I call a friend.

A TOWN'S FUNERAL

A town that never has anything to do in a public way is on the way to the cemetery. Any citizen who will do nothing for his town is helping to dig the grave. A man that cusses the town furnishes the coffin. The man who is so selfish as to have no time from his business to give affairs, is making the shroud. The man who will not advertise is driving the hearse. The man who is always pulling back from any public enterprise throws bouquets on the grave. The man who is so stingy as to be howling hard times, preaches the funeral, sings the doxology. And thus the town lies buried from all sorrow and care.—News, Downs, Kansas.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the blood. It cures the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing her work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

WARD EIGHT

A Mother's Terrible Experience

West Buxton, (Me.)—To read of Mrs. Arthur Campbell's experience is harrowing. Imagine her feeling as she writes: "I am a mother of five children. My little girl two years old was so weak with colic, little red spots on her face, and she began to gain at last. Now I would not be without it. I feel very grateful to you."

No doubt this child had some stomach trouble due to worms. Scores of children have worms and their mothers don't know it. The trouble.

Symptoms of worms: Deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly, pain about the navel, pale face, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose and rectum, dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red spots on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

Dr. Tru's Elixir has been faithful in its duties as a family Laxative and Worm Expeller since 1851.

Horse Did Diving Stunt

C. B. Cummings & Sons' truck horse has become famous since his unprecedented tated plunge in the mill pond one night recently. Sonambulism is given as the cause.

The free circus act was performed through a hole in the side of Stephen Merrill's barn where a dive ten feet deep. The animal was discovered at daylight in the pond behind Fred Cummings' residence, standing in water waiting patiently to be rescued. No damage was done and he reported for duty that morning as usual.

So far as known, Fred Cummings was the only person to hear the commotion. Shingles and boards ripping snatched him from slumber about 3 a. m. He went out hastily to investigate, believing his pet swans were in distress. Glad only in his abbreviated sleeping regalia, Fred paddled about the pond in a boat, but didn't see the stranded horse, although he found the birds they may think she is cross; Father, sister, or maybe brother. Is the one they love the most.

But when she's gone they'll find they'll miss her. Think no one can take her place. And for friends they're searching afar. On someone soon there's a trace. I know because I've lost my family; Lost them all but my brother. But now since from all I rally; I've found a friend like mother. It's been four years since first I saw her. OXFORD COUNTY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Oxford County Teachers' Association will be held in Norway, Wednesday, September 29. The sessions are only for the benefit of teachers, but all are open to the public, and it is hoped that many of the town's people will attend. Principal Albert G. Parker of Norway is president of the association.

The opening program will be at 10:15 at the high school building, which is especially for parents and school officers. At 12 a get together dinner will be served at the Grange hall followed by toasts and speeches.

Frank McGauley, rich of Bar Harbor will bring greetings from the Maine Teachers' Association, and Alton C. Wheeler of South Paris will speak on "The citizen and the school."

A large attendance should be at the session in the Opera House in the evening at 8 p. m., when a fine program will be presented with an address on "Educational progress" by Dr. Augustus O. Thomas, State superintendent of schools; an address by Hon. Hugh Magill, field secretary, subject, "The national program of education."

Serpent cucumbers were on exhibition at L. J. Brooks' store. They were raised by V. Herrick on his farm at North Norway. One was nearly four feet long and the lesser one about two feet. Buttons were put in for eyes and the head and nose closely resembles a snake.

Philip E. Foss has returned to Bowdoin College, Thursday, to resume his studies. Mr. Foss left college some three years ago, being in the service. He plans to fit himself for a teacher.

Pennesseewassee Lodge No. 18, K. of P., will work the rank of Esquire on a class of candidates Thursday evening, Sept. 30. Three generations were represented at the meeting of Pennesseewassee Lodge No. 18 last Thursday evening. Irving Thibodeau, his father, Thomas Thibodeau, and grandfather, Orrington M. Cummings, all have been great workers in the order.

Penn. Lodge No. 18 K. of P. worked the rank of Esquire on a class of candidates Thursday evening, Sept. 15. Past Chancellor, Geo. A. Wheeler of Berwick was another welcome visitor.

W. C. Hobbs of Mars Hill sent us a handsome apple blossom in full bloom, the 16th. The flowers were of a deep pink and white and had the real spring apple blossom fragrance.

Albert L. Clark was in town the first of the week looking after his booth where he turned to Old Orchard Monday evening, where he is closing the Seaside Drug Store for the season.

Shoe factories are closed this week for repairs and County fair. Several departments and the offices remained open several days while the last of the run was being cleaned up.

Q and A

About Threaded Rubber Insulation

Q. What is Threaded Rubber Insulation?

A. A storage battery insulating material made up of rubber pierced with thousands of tiny threads.

Q. How does it differ from other battery insulation?

A. Ordinary insulation is wood, cut in the form of thin sheets, and is neither as uniform nor as durable as Threaded Rubber Insulation.

Q. Why is insulation so important?

A. Because battery life depends largely on insulation; and because any defect or weakness of insulation is quickly evidenced by buckled plates, short circuits, and failure of the battery to hold its charge and so on.

Q. What has this insulation to do with battery shipment?

A. The kind of insulation determines whether the battery must be kept wet, or can be shipped in "bone dry" condition. Wood insulation must never be allowed to dry out, hence makes necessary wet or partially wet shipment. With Threaded Rubber Insulation the battery can be shipped absolutely "bone dry."

Q. Why is "bone dry" shipment and stocking preferable?

A. 136 in all. The complete list is printed at the right.

A. Because it is the only method by which chemical action in the battery can be entirely held up, so that the battery reaches the buyer in truly brand-new condition.

Q. Why does wood insulation need to be replaced?

A. Because wood insulation being soft, wears out more rapidly than any other part of the battery. It is also subject to cracking and checking, which, if allowed to go too far, seriously damages the battery.

Q. Why does Threaded Rubber Insulation outlast the battery?

A. Because the basis is hard rubber, which resists wear and does not crack or check.

Q. How can I be sure my battery has Threaded Rubber Insulation?

A. It can be found only on the Still Better Willard Battery. Look for the red Threaded Rubber trade-mark.

Q. How many car and truck manufacturers have selected Threaded Rubber Insulation?

A. 136 in all. The complete list is printed at the right.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

CLOSING DAYS OF THE SEASON BY THE SEA

The best view on Great Diamond Island is from the lookout on top of the building once owned by the Portland Yacht Club. It is on a high bluff on the south-east part of the island. We went there one clear day and were amply rewarded for our climb up the many stairways. Blue water studded with islands could be seen almost around the whole horizon and away to the northeast was the open ocean. It was grand and beautiful.

The most conspicuous object on the island is the water tank or reservoir on the Government Reservation on the north end, which supplies Uncle Sam's troops there with pure water. This reservoir can be seen for several miles up the Grand Trunk.

Mention was made in one of these letters of the flower garden of Samuel A. Stevens. On our second visit it was in full bloom. I was greatly surprised and delighted with the change a few days had made in the appearance of the flowers. I never saw anything like it. The whole plot was a mass of bloom beyond the power of my pencil to describe. It had to be seen to be fully appreciated. There were a dozen or more visitors and some had come over from Peaks. We heard "Ohs" and "Ahs" and exclamations of delight on every hand. The happiest one of the lot was Mr. Stevens himself whom one could see by his smiling countenance, immensely enjoyed the praise of his rare and beautiful flowers.

One day we noticed a procession of Catholic children from Little Diamond Island in charge of two nuns. They had crossed the bar at low water, and after a tour of the island, were going back before the tide came in. I counted over 50 children. The nuns brought up the rear to see that no one strayed. I took off my hat as the little procession passed.

On one occasion while up in the city, I saw a large number of farmers' teams drawn up at the fences near the park in the vicinity of the county buildings. It was their market day. They had everything raised on the farms or in gardens, for sale. I learned that these market days were on Wednesdays and Saturdays. All their produce would be sold out before noon.

I ran into John Twombly, formerly of Norway one Saturday afternoon. He was delighted to see me and followed me to the wharf and saw me onto the boat for our island cottage. John has a good job, told me he earned over $5.00 in the shop the day before and is doing well. He got hurt by being carelessly run into by an automobile last summer and had a leg broken. He was several weeks in the hospital. John couldn't say enough in praise of Capt. George F. Hathaway, whom he called one of the very best and most reliable men in Norway. There are lots of people who will back up John's statements.

A neighbor of Governor Coolidge's has a cottage in a fine locality on the south eastern part of the island. I happened to meet him on the boat to the city as he was leaving for his Massachusetts home. In closing up his cottage for the season he had met with an accident that delayed his going earlier in the day. In getting out of a 2d story window after fastening everything up on the inside, he tore a great hole in his pants leg which took some time to hunt up a seamstress and get it repaired. We laughed heartily over the affair. He is a fine fellow and we shall have some good times together but for his misfortune I probably would never have known him.

Of Governor Coolidge he said, "He is not much of a mixer, rather reserved, gets his evening paper, goes home and reads it, but he is one of the best Governors Massachusetts has ever had and will make an excellent vice president or president even for that matter 'if Harding should die in office.'"

The advantages of having a summer home on Great Diamond Island are these: a class of the best people as neighbors.

"For the folks are human here, Glad to see you drawing near, Glad to be kindling flowing freely Through the land."

Good bathing beaches, nearness to lily city stores and places of entertainment—the run by boat from wharf to landing, is less than half an hour—good spring water for all purposes; excellent sanitary conditions; some of the best views in the harbor; good soil for gardens; fine shade trees, a hall for meetings of all kinds, and a store. From the farm near the landing, ice, milk, etc., can be obtained. The boats run to and from the city many times a day. "Every convenience has its inconvenience," one doesn't get everything desirable in one place outside of paradise. Cunnors can be caught at the landing, but they are mighty small. Fishing is fine farther down the bay. Every cottage doesn't have a splendid view from its piazza, but there all the conveniences won't be found on the top of a high bluff in the scrubby spruces in a crow's nest. One can go there for a few hours and enjoy it, but for a summer home, the conveniences would be lacking. Plans for the future, include a motor boat for trips around the beautiful inner bay, up to the city and down the harbor for pleasure and fishing. These are dreams that draw us seaward and some of them may come true.

While at the landing waiting for the steamer, the boat going down the bay came into view off the point of Little Diamond Island. Soon there came to us the sea breeze the sounds of the violins, harp and violin. Music on the water is always fine. The tune was "The Last Rose of Summer." We watched the steamer with its decks crowded with passengers, for some time and listened to the playing. As it swept past the next landing, we heard the notes of "Home Sweet Home."

A sadness had come over us on leaving our island cottage closed up for the season, but our hearts bounded joyously again as our boat came in to the landing and we turned our faces toward the city and home.

The New Age
I am conscious of our passing into a new order of things—a new age. Having been given the right to vote and hold office, the women have come to the front, and, for a period at least, will be a controlling factor in affairs. For one, I welcome the change and turn from the setting to the rising sun, the old to the new. Let us give the women a clear field, throw no obstacles in their path, or try to bend them to our ways. New blood has been infused into the body politic and it ought, and will, for one thing, sweep away old prejudices. It will be like a draft of fresh air in an overheated atmosphere.

In unbearable conditions in a community where men from cowardice or profit have failed to act, women have taken the matter in hand and promptly and effectively brought about a beneficial change. Now there is other work besides the reformation of abuses for them to do. The offices as well as positions of trust and responsibility are open to them. They will have a great pride in doing things well and improving whatever they take hold of. There can be no doubt of their success.

The time before the September election in Maine was so short after the adoption of the constitutional amendment giving them the right to vote and the absence of any heated interest in the presidential election in Maine in November since it is a foregone conclusion now what the result will be, that no serious division among them will be created. Then, too, it will be two years before there is another political election. This will give time to learn more fully their rights and duties and give them an opportunity to take a hand in local affairs. They will have an interest to promote good government, sound business and economical management, in improvements according to our needs and means to pay for; opposition to extravagance and waste and faithfulness in the performance of public duties entrusted to them. Apparently women are in a considerable majority in Norway. They should have representation on the boards of selectmen and education and a part of the other town offices. There is no lack of material to select from when there are such capable women as Mrs. Lewis A. Sanborn, Mrs. Mary L. Witt, Mrs. B. G. McIntire, Mrs. Alice R. Danforth, Mrs. Mary Bennett, Mrs. Lucelia Merriam, Mrs. Edith Bartlett, Mrs. Alice Smith, Mrs. Izah T. Sanborn, Mrs. J. A. Woodman, Mrs. Alice Oxnard, Mrs. Fannie Horne, Mrs. W. Rice, Mrs. Eliza Riddon, Miss Margaret Baker, Miss Gertrude Gardner, Miss Emma J. Smith, Miss Ellie S. Swan, Miss Agnes Beal and Miss Ruth Cummings and from twenty-five to fifty others who might be mentioned.

I take off my hat to the enfranchised woman, I salute her and rejoice in the dawn of better days.

"DID MORE THAN I DREAMED IT COULD"

"I Wish Everyone Who Suffers As I Did Would Try Tanlac," Says Portland Woman

"I just wish everyone who suffers as I did would only try Tanlac, for I know it would help them just like it has me," said Miss Emma Smith, 161 Fort Road, South Portland, Maine, in a statement the other day.

"For the past two years I was bothered with stomach trouble and nervousness and during that time I learned what it meant to suffer," she continued. "After every meal I was in misery, what I ate fermented and gave me terrible cramps in my stomach. I had a smothering feeling in my chest and throat and it was hard for me to get my breath. My nerves were all unstrung and I would worry and fret over little things I had always passed by unnoticed. I would wake up several times during the night, and the little sleep I got was restless and I could hardly tell I had been to bed at all. I felt tired out all day long and the housework became a burden to me.

"Well, I must say that Tanlac has done more for me than I had ever dreamed any medicine would, and I have so much more strength and energy that I am feeling even better than I did before my troubles began. I am hungry all the time now, everything agrees with me and I never have the slightest sign of stomach trouble. My nerves are so steady I can sleep all night long without waking up even once, and I get up feeling rested and refreshed. My nervousness does not trouble me in the least, and thanks to Tanlac, my health is just so fine that life is now a pleasure."

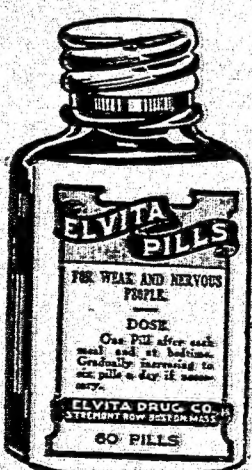

Tanlac is sold in Norway by A. L. Clark Drug Co., in West Paris by S. T. White, and by O. H. Haskell, Sweden, R. F. D. from Harrison.

WATERFORD

Isabel Sophia Stone Doten

Waterford will miss the positive personality of Mrs. Isabel S. Doten who died at her home on Tuesday night, August 3, after a brief illness.

Mrs. Doten was the second child of Alexander Stone and Sophia Pride, both parents being of the sterling Waterford stock long identified with the town affairs.

She was born October 13, 1857 and passed her entire life as a resident of her native town with the exception of brief periods of residence in Norway, Yarmouth and South Paris. Latterly she had spent her winters in Bermuda, Florida and South Carolina.

Possessing marked versatility of talents she acquired skill as a musician both vocal and instrumental, as an artist, painting pictures of merit. In the various arts of feminine needlecraft she was exceedingly skilful. A woman of great industry, she secured by her labor a most comfortable home in which she made many of whom she attached to herself by the bonds of a firm friendship. A woman of intelligence, she read extensively of the best literature even attaining by her self-directed study a fair knowledge of French. Poetic in temperament, she had the knack of literary expression as is shown in this bit of verse regarding her beloved Bermuda:

MY SUNSET

I stood by an ancient fortress
On Bermuda's peaceful height,
Which still has its sombre cannon
Guarding its day and night.
Below lay the calm, blue harbor
With its countless islands, green.
So peaceful and serene.
While o'er it all the sunset
Shed its radiant, rosy glow.
Till it seemed like a bit of heaven
Just loaned to mortals below.
Then silently in the gloaming,
As shadows came and went,
Across the dusky harbor
Its boats glide to and fro.
Laden, methinks, with the burdens
Of the day and night,
As into the silent evening
Each boatman steals away.
My soul forgot its longing
For something yet unknown:
It was filled with peace and quiet—
Every care had flown.

For more than a year Mrs. Doten was in failing health but her final sickness was of but a week's duration. During this period she was most tenderly cared for by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Marian Stone and her niece, Mrs. Charlotte Filkins.

These, with her brother, Edgar L. Stone, spared neither pains nor trouble to make her last hours most comfortable.

The funeral services were held on Friday morning, August 6, and were conducted by her brother-in-law, the Rev.

George M. Woodwell of So. Bristol, Me., assisted by the Rev. Robert Jones, the pastor of the Congregational Church of Waterford.

The bearers were her son, Carroll L. Doten, her brother, Edgar L. Stone, and her two brothers-in-law, Charles D. Morse and George M. Woodwell.

Leroy Spiller of Norway had the direction of the funeral and officiated with gentle and reverent efficiency. The interment was at Elm Vale Cemetery.

The deceased is survived by her son, Carroll L. Doten with his two daughters; her sister, Mrs. Alice F. Stone, Woodwell of South Bristol, Me., and her brother, Edgar L. Stone, with his daughter of Waterford.

A wealth of floral offerings from many friends bore perfume and beautiful testimony to the esteem in which she was held by her friends.

DeBrie Bros. Minstrels at Norway Opera House Monday, Sept. 27. Tickets now on sale at Stone's Drug Store.

GILEAD

Mr. and Mrs. George Proctor of Watertown, Mass., were week-end guests of her brother, C. C. Quimby, and family. They made the trip by auto.

A. J. Blake was in Bethel one day last week.

Dellison Conroy spent the week-end at his home in Bethel.

Mrs. Florence Bryant was in Gorham, N. H., Thursday.

Albert Scott and family have moved to Phillips, where he has employment.

A. D. Park of South Paris was in town one day last week.

Joseph Billedeau left Wednesday for Springfield, Mass.

Mrs. Elmer Newell of Gorham, N. H., has been spending a few days with her father, Albert Bennett, who is ill.

Mrs. Ada Cole was very much surprised, Friday afternoon, Sept. 17th, when a party of friends met at her home at 2 o'clock, the occasion being her 43rd birthday. Mrs. A. T. Heath and Alma Heath presented Mrs. Cole with a lovely birthday cake which was decorated with strawberries just picked from Mrs. Heath's garden. Hot cocoa was also served. Mrs. Cole was presented with useful presents, also money. The party consisted of Mrs. Ida Jewett, Mrs. Eva DeCosta, Mrs. A. T. Heath and Alma Heath.

Emeline Heath went to Bethel, Tuesday, to attend Good Academy.

Two years ago last September the democrats got two majority. This year the republicans had a large majority, right around 50 or more. This goes to show that the ladies know how to vote and which way to carry their votes to count the right way.

Miss Page is active physically and mentally in spite of her advanced age and is noted for her interest in cooking, recently making the wedding cake for the Alden-Weston wedding.

The Races

Races, Tuesday

A small crowd gathered along the fence and barely a hundred occupied the grand stand. Although races on the card were good with little show of any strenuous fighting the spectators failed to enthrall except during the accident in the third heat of the 2.17 class.

The getting away was slow, owing to numerous unavoidable accidents of a minor character. The Brigade Band came to the rescue during the brief waits and filled in the time with their lively music.

The race opened strong with a low mark for the class but settled into a slow mill as it advanced. In the fourth heat Brocken and Mona C. were ruled out for interference and Bandler was drawn.

June 2:14 1/2; 2:23 1/2; 2:26 1/2; 2:28 1/2.

This race furnished a thriller not seen on the grounds in many years. Nutwood Kinney entered by Don McDaniels of Caribou and June Powers, owned by Wm. J. Gammage of Portland, went into collision after a getaway in the third heat. Nutwood stumbled and fell, June Powers was unable to clear the wreck and a general piling up resulted. Billy Nelson was in the midst of the trouble and came out with additional injuries to a leg hurt some weeks ago. Chester Stuart of Bangor was hurled from his sulky and landed within a few inches of the fence. His wrist and two fingers were broken, beside other bruises. Both injured drivers were treated on the grounds by a Norway physician.

Several minutes elapsed before June Powers could be extricated from broken straps and smashed sulks. Many believed the trotter's neck had been broken in the fall, but no serious effects were noticed after the accident.

Watson finished the mile alone in a leisurely way as the slow time shows. Both horses in the accident were ruled out of the heat but drew second and third money according to their standing after the previous heats.

Judges—Bert Hill and Chester Tarbox, both of Harrison.

Races Wednesday

Excellent races were pulled off during the afternoon under ideal conditions, with Isiah Morrill at the head of things in the judges stand.

Four heats were needed to settle the 2:35 class with a field of five starters. Electric Forbes driven by Turney was ruled out after the third heat.

Peter Directen was outclassed in the 2:30 class, trot and pace, in a field of seven and went under the flag in the first heat. Dr. Thibodeau of Rumford made a hit with Star and captured the race in three straight heats. Star was a favorite with the big crowd and received an ovation.

Betty Gamage and Arley L. failed to measure up to the speed in the 2:30 class and both went into the discard in the first and second heats.

Midway Sights

Never before were there so many sideshows and gaming establishments gathered on the spot set apart for this feature. Two streets were in active operation this year and the numerous avenues were occupied with the quaint and curious assembled to make money.

Everything was there and all tastes could be satisfied. Games of skill including practically all known devices were presented in more or less elaborate manner. Side shows galore—beautifully embellished with gaudy paintings separated many quarters from the curious.
 The alligator boy Alfonso under the same canvas with the headless Chinese man and the wonderful sea-horse did a thriving business. Bo Bo, the wild and vicious wild man, attracted a crowd with his blood curdling yells. Real octopus in Twenty Thousand Leagues under sea were natural curiosities. Race, the man allowing an automobile to pass over his body, proved a genuine athletic marvel. Madam Stanley read the past, present and future and recited many wonderful things during her seance with cards and the palm.

The galle shows were crowded at every performance. This year their free platform displays were carried out in a modest way with more dress goods in evidence than in years past. Within the tents the programs were less "shocking" than formerly, and gave evidence of having been carefully pruned of the highly suggestive features common not many years ago. One man remarked in the crowd that "a married woman had good reason to sue for divorce if her sporty husband was found watching a show of this sort." This was a strong statement in the light of events transpiring during this fair, as modified dancing in full costume was the rule in every place.

Slight of hand was featured especially in the side show conducted by the Carnival Company, and surely many good acts were presented. Katron, the champion wrestler divided the time between the hoop-la and his athletic show.
 "Cyk" McGinley, South Paris, a snappy wrestler, was on hand and gave Katron a fast go whenever he called for volunteers. Another athletic show featuring McGinley and a champion from the Navy drew a heavy patronage.
 Some lively bouts were staged there with McGinley the favorite.

Climbing the ladder was a delicate trick attempted by many, but few reached the goal. Doll racks, ring tossing devices, throwing the balls and shooting darts for prizes were popular amusements. A thousand and one catch penny schemes worked perfectly and the fakirs cleared up as never before. Everybody spent money and seemed crazed with the display and noise.

Toy gas balloons proved the most popular thing and thousands were sold.
 Hundreds escaped in the air or exploded soon after purchased. The children were made happy, and the midway with gay tents, odors from the frankfort booths, noises from drums, tom toms and the band music, all managed to impress the youthful mind with pictures never to be forgotten.

Wm. Thomas (colored) Rumford Pt. was on the grounds. Seventy-three years sits lightly on him. He and Ber-erly Truman of Norway, and Harry

Johnson of North Paris were born in slavery and came North after the war.
 He is the last one now living.

"I wish the little town of Lewiston could see this fair," shouted a man who follows the fairs when he was obliged to shut up shop, Wednesday afternoon,
 and replenish his stock in trade.

Flying Through the Air

Lieut. R. C. Swan, late of the American Aviation Fleet, gave exhibition stunts in a flying machine. Arrangements for starting and lighting had been made in a very early field on the Rumford Road, but the owner plowed up a strip in the middle and ruined it for aviation purposes.
 This necessitated going to the Ira Harriman field on Fore Street, Oxford, and very considerably reduced the number who would have rode with him in the sky.

The sky machine was kept busy and among those who parted with fifteen dollars to ride were:
 George Doran, South Paris.
 C. W. Hutchinson.
 Geo. W. Russell, Hallowell.
 A. L. Cook, the barber, Norway.
 Walter F. Tabbs, Norway.
 Walter Brown, Norway.
 George Thurston, Errol.

Nathan A. Noble, Norway (when he passed over his house, he waved a flag which was seen by his children).
 T. J. Dwyer, South Paris.
 Mrs. H. Walter Brown, Norway (first woman to fly over Norway).
 W. DeRue, 20 minutes up in the air.
 Jennie Tenny, Norway.
 Joe Chantrel.
 Virian Akers, Norway, (took pictures).
 Mrs. Edith Akers, Norway.
 Merton A. Millett, South Paris (when he passed over his home, dropped a letter which landed in his back yard).
 Mrs. Ada Tabbs, Norway.

CATTLE DEPARTMENT

Although not up to numbers of former years this department gave evidence of quality and prominent cattle raisers in Oxford County were there with the best from their herds.

Arthur Cummings, proprietor of Sun-nybrook farm, Oxford, was there with his Holsteins of merit and carried away a generous supply of ribbons. Edward Hobbs of Norway, who had ten grade Herefords which attracted attention and favorable comment. Donald Wood of Norway exhibited Holsteins. Joe Robinson, Oxford, Chas. Bean of Hiram, Au-ther Hayes, Oxford, A. W. Weston of Hallowell, Albert Sturtevant of Paris
 James Thomas of Harrison, Floyd Varney and others made everything lively in the cattle department with a strong representation especially in the drawing classes.

Elmer Hayes of Greenwood was on hand with a good looking string of pulling steers. Herbert Carter of Bethel was down with a string of short horns.
 Harold Ellis of Paris put into competition no less than fourteen head of large beef cattle.

Arthur Robbins of Norway had about thirty head of white face Herefords.
 Carroll King of Strakeed Mountain brought down sixteen Arshires and Jerseys. Clifford Wilson of Woodstock was here with a herd of mixed cattle.
 Other exhibitors included U. S. G. Abbott, Norway, Fagan & Green of Paris, F. Everett of West Paris, J. H. Millett, Norway, George Westleigh and Frank Littlehale of West Paris.

Dr. C. M. Merrill of South Paris had grade Jerseys and Gurnseys, as did John C. Judkins and U. S. G. Abbott of Norway. Grade Durhams were entered by Ellis Whitman of Buckfield, A. J. and F.
 T. Millett, Norway, Morey & McKean of North Waterford and Mrs. G. G. Abbott of Norway.

Eating House Square

Never in the history of Oxford County fair has this part of the grounds been more liberally patronized. Every dining hall served to capacity. Vast quantities of food disappeared and more could have been sold if the goods had been on hand. The churches had a large force catering to the multitude and spared no pains to accommodate the throngs.
 The high water mark long before the fair closed and were forced to shut the doors, lacking enough food. Ladies' Social Union of the South Paris Universalist Church was rushed and served until forced to give up. Their receipts broke all previous records. Elmer Twitchell, William Twitchell, A. J. Lovejoy and others conducting business in this time honored square have never handled more business than during this 78th annual.

Fair Notes

President McIntire had a veritable city on his hands. He had it all mapped out and staked off and it was cosmopolitan in its make-up. The name and postoffice, size and rent price appeared on the plan.
 Those of the midway, who wanted space reserved for next year, were required to lay down the money and thus became their location now. Several availed themselves of it, thus showing they are coming next year. Only one show on the ground was stopped. That was a hypnotic dancing affair of the shimmy variety.
 Up and down the grounds, trotting through the crowd, were men and boys, women and girls, carrying the stylish baby doll, a splash-me doll, a kewpie doll, a doll with dimpled cheeks or knees, or some other kind of a doll.

W. O. Black is our authority for saying 1700 automobile tickets were sold on Wednesday.

Light-Finger Work

Some stealing was attempted. The cat-the fence's place was broken into Monday night and the president's B. W. Penley's new overcoat was taken and the blanks and papers in the desk were disturbed. A stall containing straw was opened and President L. E. McIntire put under pad lock on the door and locked in two stray fakers who were sleeping on the straw. This was in the early morning and after breakfast and on the return of Mr. McIntire the lodgers were anxious to get out, claiming they were unable to get lodging in either town. Mr.
 McIntire with him police officer, Horace Kimball, descended with gold braid and brass buttons and told these fellows if their friends who had broken into cattle judge's building and taken the overcoat would return it, no action further questions would be asked. Of course they denied all knowledge of the theft. The two men were allowed to go with the understanding they must produce the overcoat. A little later they were informed by another fellow that he knew where the coat was and it was found nicely folded and wrapped under a building. Thus they got the coat, Ed's new coat.

Evening Amusements

Norway was well provided with entertainment during the three evenings. Manager DeCrotona offered feature pictures at Rex Theatre and received capacity houses.
 The Imperial Singing Orchestra held dances at Norway Opera House three evenings and a large patronage was there, especially Wednesday evening when dan-
